

Welcome to Jon Moore!

By Lisa Harris-Frydman, Kansas RTAP

By now you have probably heard that Jon Moore is KDOT's new public transportation manager. In this role, Jon will be working closely with transit agencies across the state, and those who promote transit and coordination, including RTAP. Jon is a familiar face, not only because of his work on triennial reviews for transit agencies, but because he was a graduate research assistant working for Kansas RTAP when he was studying at the University of Kansas. Jon wrote newsletter articles for us, and worked on special projects for our former director, Pat Weaver. We're delighted to be working with him again. We will feature a profile on Jon, and cover some other staff changes at KDOT, in our next newsletter.
